OutIn

ESPRESSO THAT TRAVELS.
PURPOSE THAT SHOWS UP.

OutIn redefines espresso for people on the move. The Nano is compact, self-heating, and roughly the size of a water bottle, making it easy to pack while still delivering true espresso performance. Unlike other portable espresso machines, the Nano does not require preheated water. It heats and brews on its own, creating rich crema with 20 bar pressure.

It supports 12V, 24V, and USB charging, delivering flexible power wherever the day goes. It works with both ground coffee and Nespresso-compatible capsules, giving users control without compromise.

Beyond performance, OutIn integrates measurable impact into its product releases, pairing innovation with defined charitable contributions and sustainability initiatives.
